

Frozen Dates and Times

Dear Parents and Guardians,

As we prepare for our upcoming production, I want to emphasize the importance of commitment to the rehearsal schedule, particularly during Tech Week and performances. Theatre is a collaborative art form, and every member of our cast plays an essential role in bringing the production to life, regardless of whether they have a lead role or are part of the ensemble.

To ensure that we create the best experience for everyone, it is crucial that students attend all scheduled rehearsals, especially during Tech Week, as well as all performances and call times. Absences during this time not only affect the student but also impact the entire cast and the overall production. This includes leaving rehearsal early.

We understand that students may have other activities or commitments. However, if participation in other programs conflicts with our rehearsal schedule, we kindly ask that you consider waiting to participate in our program until your child is able to fully commit. Theatre at North Bay Theatrics is truly a team effort, and the success of our productions depends on everyone working together.

Thank you for your understanding and cooperation. We look forward to creating something truly special with your child.

Please review the following schedule carefully when considering participation.

Best regards,
Ashley Kimball McGregor
Artistic Director, North Bay Theatrics
